INDIALANTIC, FL - PIPELINE completes Direct to Ghana, November 14, 2010.

Completion of a 9 month project to establish and provide Pipeline with direct voice termination to the Ghana PTT was completed in early November, announced Mike Price, VP of International Operations for Pipeline Telecom. Ghana Telecom is the largest in-country network provider representing coverage to over 73% of the telephone lines in Ghana. Pipeline's voice termination is transported via a Virtual Private Network (VPN) using Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) from Pipeline's Florida based network to their Point-of-Presence (PoP) in Ghana, which is then relayed over a 100% TDM interconnect to Ghana Telecom. Voice coverage includes all land telephone lines and the countries 4 mobile operators.

"With capacity capable of terminating nearly 600,000 voice minutes per day and infrastructure in place to triple capacity, Pipeline is positioned to become a major supplier to the Ghanaians population", said Mr. Price. "As we continue to grow our portfolio of highly sought after international voice routes with quality and reliable services, Pipeline continues to meet the demanding requirements to the customers we serve. Our main goal is to exceed our customers expectations for quality, reliability and support", Price added.
